

Temple of the Foliated Cross Inscription

Monument location at center of island

Man in snail shell from inscription

From Kornelia Kurbjuhn, Man in the Turtle, Man in the Snail:

“...they represent an image of the central, vertical axis of the world.”

“...snail shell occupants are credited with great age beyond the beginning of the time count, and they are either creators or they were there when creation and ‘setting in order’ happened.”